

Buddha is

The Cosmos is Tathagata

The Tathagata is formations

The Tathagata is the Engine of Life

Life is the Realms of Name and Form

Name and Form are the river of the Cosmos

All phenomena are expressions of the Tathagata

Sentient and insentient are expressions of Tathagata

To experience the Tathagata is Buddha

To experience the Tathagata in mind is Buddhahness

Buddhahness is the awareness of the Engine of Life.

To experience the Engine of Life is to cross the Cosmos

To experience the Engine of Life is the ultimate Dharma

To experience the Engine of Life is enlightenment

To experience the Engine of Life is to reach the opposite shore.

The opposite shore is the release from the river

The river is the attachment to realms of formations

To swim in the river of the Cosmos, Unattached, is the freedom of Buddhahness

The experience of Buddhahness is the Dharma of Tathagata

Everything that is and is not, Is Tathagata

In death, Buddha is not

In Life, Buddha is.
